

Executive Velocity

we accelerate your leadership success

Executive Velocity understands the importance of leadership development for professional and personal growth, whether you are a new or experienced employee, an executive or line employee.

FACILITATION

Using proven tools and techniques, Facilitation ensures that every company meeting or planning session meets its primary purpose. As a result, companies and their teams become more efficient and strategic in achieving their goals.

With professionally facilitated meetings:

- Creative brainstorming techniques encourage collaboration and team work among members
- Focused and productive discussions foster innovation in the organization
- Employees understand their value and impact to the team which strengthens their motivation
- With employees taking on an active part in solution management, they become more committed to reach company goals

EXECUTIVE COACHING

Executive Coaching is a process of employee and/or company learning and development to optimize professional performance. The whole process works to harness your strengths and improve on the areas holding back peak performance.

Results from coaching include:

- Modified work behaviors focused on increased performance and successful goal attainment
- Effective strategies to cultivate a winning and proactive mindset for the employee
- Quick and competent adoption of new work styles in times of organizational or work changes
- Developing the full potential in future leaders for effective succession planning and company growth
- Learning key techniques to promote employee engagement across multiple generations
- Increased team productivity and competency as a result of effective leadership

TEAM BUILDING

Team Building empowers you and your team. Whether it's a newly formed team, a team with new members, or an existing team, the result is a dynamic unit that meets its goals and increases company success.

Team building leads to:

- Developing a faster, more systematic strategy to accomplish team goals
- Individual empowerment of all members which generates team success and increased employee engagement
- Maximizing team dynamics: learning effective communication among members for quicker and more optimal outcomes

ASSESSMENTS

Assessments use highly efficient instruments to identify key strengths, skills, and potential in each individual and organization.

Benefits of assessments include:

- Increased company productivity by identifying and training the right people for your team.
- Skillful communication across all organizational levels, directly creating a positive impact on efficiency
- Increased employee morale that will boost productivity
- Keener insight into your employees' and your own strengths and weaknesses, improving team effectiveness, customer service, and sales, to name a few

Let
Executive Velocity
accelerate your leadership success!

Get on the road to leadership success and call us today!

Tel. no. 404.451.3726

or e-mail information@executive-velocity.com

www.executive-velocity.com